Vibrant health secrets of the ages rediscovered through nano-mineral technology.

Bringing ancient science into the new millennium, a unique form of bio-available Calcium is produced facilitating the transport of nano-mineral nutrition. Catalytic Calcium contains a nano-mineral suspension resembling the Healing Waters found in Sacred Springs worldwide.

Paramagnetic forces flowing along underground watercourses impart a near magical charge characteristic to the nano-size mineral clusters carried along to the Springs. The energy of the magnetic spin-field duplicates that of living systems creating Quintessential Elements.

Oriental Medicine calls this subtle energy flow Chi. Since this energy flow in the body is not readily measured by known scientific instruments, it has also been referred to as etheric currents. In Oriental Medicine, a depletion or blockages in the flow of Chi are considered to be the cause of all disease. An increase in the flow of Chi through the etheric currents may result in increased health and longevity by facilitating cellular regeneration in all body tissues.

Catalytic Calcium retains the natural energy signature of living systems. This frequency characteristic has a geometrical equivalent known as the Golden Mean. All of creation is built upon this same ratio as were all the great cathedrals. This harmony is also the key to our human perception of beauty.

Catalytic Calcium may transmit the energy signature of beautiful living systems into skin, muscles and connective tissue, resulting in beauty that is truly more than skin deep.
